District Chairman, Dr. Franklin Flint, reported on the Virginia Outdoor Recreation Plan for 1979. Some of the plan's proposals are that the James River be designated as a scenic river down through the District to Bent Creek, that a State Park be developed in Campbell County around Leesville Lake and several additional boat landings be developed.

VEPCO REQUESTS SURCHARGE

into effect on April 20, subject to refund, either without a hearing or with an abbreviated hearing. The company also indicated it intends to file within the next several months a full rate case, to cover both items included in the surcharge and a number of other items that need to be considered by the SCC.

"Vepco has curtailed and deferred its construction program to the full limit permitted by prudent management," Mr. Ragone said. "That program is based on a projection of load growth that is lower than most forecasters are projecting. Further deferrals and curtailments cannot be made without impairing quality and continuity of service. Also, deferral of units under construction for reasons other than customer load requirements results in substantial increases in the cost of facilities which must be passed on to the ratepayer," he said.

"Vepco to date has not curtailed its construction below its projected needs through 1986 (except for the reserve deficiency in 1981 that results from the financial crisis of 1974 when construction had to be stopped at North Anna and Bath County), and it would be harmful to the economic well-being of the Commonwealth and its residents if additional construction curtailments are required because of inadequate or untimely rate relief.

"If the company is able to present construction projects at all, it may be able to do so only by additional deferrals and foregoing the commencement of construction of any new generating facilities. This would reduce its capital requirements substantially but it would result in severe power shortages that would far surpass the effects now being felt from the miners' strike," Mr. Ragone said.

For residential customers, the 12.17 per cent surcharge on basis rates would mean that a bill for $25 would go up by $3.04; a bill for $50 would increase by $6.09; and a bill for $100 would increase by $12.17. The surcharge would apply to the energy charge only, and would not be applied to charge for local taxes, the fuel adjustment charge, or any other service charge.

Hams Styled to Please

Hams are available in many different styles—bone in, skinless, shankless, semi-boneless, boneless and rolled and shaped. But the different styles needn't be confusing for they don't affect the cooking procedure, points out the National Live Stock and Meat Board. Hams are basically either "fully-cooked" or "cook-before-eating". Most of the hams on the market are "fully-cooked" and need only be heated to an internal temperature of 130° to 140° F. Hams of the "cook-before-eating" type need to be baked to an internal temperature of 160° F.
